This image shows a page of musical notation for a piano piece. It consists of five systems of staves, each with a treble and bass clef. The music is written in a key with two flats (B-flat and E-flat) and a common time signature. The notation includes various musical elements such as notes, rests, and dynamic markings. The first system shows a complex melodic line in the treble and a more rhythmic bass line. The second system continues this with more intricate patterns. The third system features a prominent arpeggiated figure in the bass. The fourth system includes a section marked 'trm' (trill) and 'Re.' (rehearsal mark). The fifth system concludes with a section marked 'affretto' (allegretto), indicating a faster tempo. The overall style is characteristic of 19th-century piano music.

First system of musical notation. The right hand features a complex, rapid melodic line with many beamed sixteenth notes, including trills. The left hand provides a harmonic accompaniment with chords and single notes. The key signature has two flats, and the time signature is 4/4.

Second system of musical notation. The right hand continues with rapid melodic passages, including a trill. The left hand accompaniment includes chords and single notes, with some asterisks marking specific chords.

Fourth system of musical notation. The right hand continues with a melodic line. The left hand accompaniment includes chords and single notes, with asterisks marking specific chords.

THE HOME MUSICAL LIBRARY.

Each book of this splendid collection is separate and independent of all others, is generally bought by itself, and used by itself. Still, as the volumes are all uniform in binding, size and style, price and general plan, it is quite proper that they should be brought under one general designation. Indeed, what more perfect musical library can be imagined! Each book contains the best music of the kind indicated by the title, and in some cases nearly all of it. For instance, "Operatic Pearls" contains nearly all the pieces from standard operas; at least nearly all that are sung in concerts. "Gems of Strauss" contains nearly all the favorite compositions of the brilliant composer; and so of other books.

|----------------------------------|---------|
| Price of each book in boards,    | $2.50. |
| Price of each book in cloth,     | 3.00.   |
| Price of each book in fine gilt, | 4.00.   |

The whole library, (of 17 books,) will cost from $40 to $64, the latter being the aggregate price of the fine gilt edition, which would be just the thing to present to a musical couple who are beginning housekeeping. The plainer bound books are equally good as to their contents, and are invaluable for teachers and pupils, being well classified, and filled with the most entertaining and useful music, both vocal and instrumental.
